LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

"KICKING AGAINST THE PRICKS."

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—Our venerable friend, the editor of the Colonist, seems to think it to be a duty he owes alike to God, his neighbor, but more especially to himself, to daily fire off a salute of blank cartridges and he is hopeful, no doubt, that the squall will blow over Burrard Inlet, but the wind don't happen to be in a favorable quarter just now, and all comes back the other way, and is beginning to settle down on this fair Eden of the venerable David—this earthly paradise, Victoria—where "every prospect pleases," and not even "man is vile." Some of his most thoughtful readers are asking what all this fuss is about? If Vancouver is nothing more than a city of big trees and stumps—(the very sight of which nearly caused some fool who has been recently writing in the Colonist to shoot himself—and it's a pity he didn't—for then there would be one ass less left to bray), and if it is going to always be the same—and he most positively assures us that it is—why then, I ask, in the name of common sense, does he continue to make so much fuss about it? To tell his readers this once or twice a week, we should judge to be quite sufficient; but David repeats the story o'er and o'er every day. What is the plain inference from all this? Just the one that the public naturally make, viz: that David is quite anxious for the future prestige of Victoria, as the commercial emporium of the province. It is quite apparent that our dear friend is quite seriously alarmed, and I think he has good reason to be. In his editorial this morning, he raves on the same subject; in fact he dreams of nothing else by night, and talks of nothing else by day. In the editorial in question, he makes this wonderful admission; just listen to it—"That there will be a change in the character of the business transacted in the province is patent to every one." Well now, you see the old man is gradually coming 'round. There is to be, upon the completion of the C. P. R., a change in the character of the business of the province. What is to be the nature of that change? Perhaps in another article he will inform us on this point. Is the "change" to be beneficial or otherwise, as far as the city of Victoria is concerned? I am inclined to the opinion that it will be "otherwise." Let us for a moment look at the situation. Is it not a fact that up to the present time, from the very commencement, the city of Victoria has engaged a monopoly of the trade of the entire province; every person that came to any part of the province was first landed here; our hackmen carried him from the wharf; and being a stranger, our hotel men, kindly "took him in." Of course, he had to purchase his outfit here, before he started for his new home in Nicola or whatever part of the province he intended to make his home. The inauguration of the C. P. R. is going to help Victoria, in this respect, is it? I ask again, is it a fact, or is it not, that two-thirds of all the merchandize landed at our docks is intended for, and is consumed upon the mainland? If this is so—and I know it is—I ask our venerable friend of the Colonist, does he suppose for one moment, that all this merchandize, nearly the whole of which will come over the C. P. R., will be landed at Vancouver, and immediately reshipped to Victoria, simply that it might be sent back again to the mainland? The very idea is absurd. If so, then I contend that immediately upon the opening of the C. P. R. two-thirds of the present trade of Victoria will have to forsake it; and unless new branches of industry are started the city will have to suffer. Victoria has hitherto been the front door leading to the Province of British Columbia; but it will not continue to occupy that position in the future. I would again remind my venerable friend of the fact, of which he must be painfully conscious by this time, that "it is hard to kick against the pricks."

In his homily this morning, on the Oregonian Senator, David makes some very pertinent observations. For instance, when he says—"Slander and vilification, even if, to a certain extent, supported by documentary evidence, invariably create an effect in the public mind opposite to that intended by their authors." Now, David, has both "slandered and vilified" Coal Harbor for the past six weeks almost daily, without having a single "documental evidence" to support it, and the effect has been "to create a feeling in the public mind opposite to that intended by the author." I would say to the gentlemen that have invested their money at the terminus, and who are naturally interested in its future prosperity, do you want to ensure good returns, and create public opinion largely in favor of Vancouver? Then "have a newspaper to abuse your city." But stay, you need not do that, David is fool enough to do it for you for nothing. AMICUS.

Victoria, Nov. 20, 1885.

THE GIVE-AWAY GOVERNMENT.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—I see by the Colonist, of the 14th, an editorial headed, "Government, Coal Harbor and English Bay Lands." Now, for facts: The provincial government does not own one acre on Burrard Inlet, nor yet in its vicinity, excepting a few acres near by the new Granville road, but its worth is hard to state.

The Provincial Secretary, in his budget speech, when advocating the Coal Harbor extension, stated that the principal part of the revenue for 1885 and 1886 amounting to some $200,000, would be derived from sales of Burrard Inlet property. This honest (?) politician well knew at the time, that the government did not own one single foot of land on Burrard Inlet. I am ashamed to state that not a single member representing this district, or the mainland, got up in his seat to contradict this false statement. Any member of the House might, by a glance at the New Westminster district map, show the fallacy of such a statement. All our lands on the Island and the Kootenay district, mineral and otherwise, are given away to an American railway company. Three million acres in the Peace River country and five thousand acres on Burrard Inlet are given away; the latter to one of the greatest monopolies the world ever saw. To carry out these ends poor settlers were driven from off the lands and left the country; all to enrich those Honest Johns we have placed in power. The country knows the value of such men who have so basely sold us, and we will deal with them in due time.

ONE WHO KNOWS.

New Westminster, Nov. 20.

ANOTHER SHOT FROM VICTORIAN.

To THE EDITOR OF THE TIMES:

SIR,—The stinging the editor of the Colonist got from the undersigned, a few days ago, he did not seem to appreciate. The style did not suit him; it was harrowing to his mind, and tickled him on the soft part of his brain, making the sordid jade wince under its prick. He raves about "throat cutting," "pig sticking" and "blood thirsty lunatics," with "infuriated maniacs recently escaped from the insane asylum." Choice language, truely, to emanate from what he wrongly claims to be the leading paper of our fair city. Its name ought to be changed to slum, and then its dirt-throwing would be in keeping. He speaks of property bought on credit, and no doubt, feelingly, for no one knows better than himself what it is to buy on credit. Rumor says there are several pieces of paper floating about weighing but a few ounces, but this burly giant cannot lift them.

It is unfortunate that the editor of the Colonist's power to misrepresent and do harm reaches farther than that which appears in his unreliable paper. It is known that he is the principal agent here of the Associated Press. The authorship of the following malicious lie, published in the Oregonian of September 29th last, is laid at his door:

VICTORIA, Sept. 28.—An exciting scene occurred near the Skating Rink to-night. A young man was approached by a young lady, who accused him of assailing her character. The young man denied the charge, and the girl, who is tall and muscular, then drew a blacksnake whip from her cloak and laid it over his head, shoulders and legs, till he howled with pain. A great crowd witnessed the whipping, which continued until the young man was bleeding from head, neck and face; the flesh being cut to ribbons.

It is scarcely necessary to state that the above contains but little truth; that when he indited it he knew that it was a cowardly, spiteful, wilful, barefaced falsehood, perpetrated on one who never harmed him in either word or action. It but shows what venomous reptiles there are in the grass in this city, under the cover of associated press agents. That very valuable and efficient organization ought to see to it that the position is filled by men of probity and of truth, and not by public maligners, as was the case in the matter referred to.

VICTORIAN.

THE TEASER CASE.

The Examination at the Police Court—Evidence Taken.

FRIDAY, Nov. 20.

The following is the concluding portion of Mr. Turner's evidence omitted from last night's issue: I heard at the time that certain Chilliwhack farmers had advanced, or were going to advance, $1400. I don't know that Henry Moore advanced any money. The mortgage was given to Allsop & Mason for $6000, before the vessel was finished. That firm advanced the money on our security, and we have since paid them. Our account against the vessel is $13,000. I don't know whether we are responsible for all the accounts against the Teaser. Would not say the we are responsible for damages; we were running her to pay off our debt. She has made about $1000. Her gross earnings was $19,600 since she began running; we have received of that amount $13,753 and paid out $12,421. The Adelaide was run in connection with the Teaser; she was chartered at our risk and expense. The profit made on her, a portion of which we have credited to Captain Moore, was about $3000. I don't know where Capt. Moore spent his nights, or whether he is a householder in the city or not.

To Mr. Davie—Capt. Moore's wages were $100 per month, which we paid.

To the Court—All our negotiations took place with Capt. Moore.

Herman Teschler, sworn:—Was engineer of the Teaser before 13th of Nov.; Wm. Moore was captain; my wages were paid by Turner, Beeton & Co.; slept on the steamer; was asleep on the morning of the 13th; Capt. Moore called me up at six o'clock in the morning; he said that he had concluded to make a change, and that Hardy would take charge; the night previous the captain said he was going the next day to Roche Harbor for lime; she left at 7:30 Friday morning; there was wood and coal enough to run five days; the coal had accumulated for the purposes of ballast as rough weather was coming on.

Cross-examined by Mr. Richards—Know Henry Moore; the Teaser is a good sea-boat; was not there when the boat left for Roche harbor.

Edward B. Marvin, sworn, said he was a ship chandler; knew defendant; he ordered a sail in September for the Teaser; said he could not pass inspection without a sail and Mr. Vigor wanted him to get it; told him I wouldn't supply it without orders from Turner, Beeton & Co.; saw Mr. Byrn and he refused to give the order; finally got an order and made the sail.

Benjamin Madigan, sworn, said he was engineer of the Boscowitz; returned to Victoria last Tuesday morning from Fort Simpson; know the Teaser; saw her on the way down; she was going northward; met her five miles north of Seymour Narrows on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Know Henry Moore; can't be sure, but think I saw him on the vessel.

SATURDAY, Nov. 21.

Edward Vigor, sworn:—Am Inspector of Steamboats for British Columbia; last inspected the Teaser in September. Did not order Capt. Moore to procure a sail; he told me he was going to get one. During the inspection I ordered some repairs to the inside of the cylinder.

To Mr. Richards:—A sail would be very useful to a vessel like the Teaser.

Richard G. Byrns, sworn:—Am bookkeeper for Turner, Beeton & Co., and as such have had management of the Teaser affairs. Turner, Beeton & Co. have been in possession since the boat was afloat. We have received the freight and passenger moneys; Bernard Moore, a son of the defendant, was purser of the Teaser; he was appointed by me during Mr. Turner's absence. He accounted to me, trip by trip for all the receipts of the boat; I paid all the wages. Henry Moore was never on board the Teaser to my knowledge; he was only nominally in possession. Capt. Wm. Moore was the only person consulted in reference to the management of the ship. The first payment made by us on account of the ship was on or about the 4th of August, 1884, and since then every bill presented to us and certified by Captain Moore as correct has been paid. Captain W. Moore has not been in a position to obtain credit on his own account. There is no money owing York & Lens on account of the Teaser; Turner, Beeton & Co. have paid Henry Moore's notes to them, amounting to $1,822 66. The fifth note, due 4th February next was paid on the 7th November, being taken up at the request of Mr. Lens, who wished to settle the account of his son-in-law in New Westminster. Turner, Beeton & Company have the charter for the Adelaide, and are under $9,000 bonds for the safe keeping of the ship; Moore is not liable for anything under the charter. The Teaser has cleared from Roche Harbor for Petropolauski; a certificate from the Deputy Collector of Roche Harbor to that effect produced. (Certificate objected to and refused.)

To Mr. Richards—A certain portion of the hull had been built when Turner, Beeton & Co. took hold of her. The Teaser was to take the place of the Ruby, a vessel in which we had helped Mr. Moore. The people of Chilliwhack never paid me any money; don't know if they paid any or if Henry Moore, put in any. Have no idea how much more money was paid out on construction. We paid the interest on Alsop's mortgage from month to month.

Letter from Captain W. Moore of 3rd August, 1884, in relation to the building and mortgaging of the boat, produced and entered.

David W. Higgins, sworn—Capt. W. Moore inserted two advertisements in the Colonist on Wednesday night last. (Original "copies" produced). They were handed to me by Capt. Moore.

Charles H. Wilson, sworn—Am a member of the firm of Wilson Bros., iron founders. Have done work for the Teaser for past six months; the engineer gave the directions, and Turner, Beeton & Co. were responsible for the pay. Have seen Capt. Moore since the Teaser left; he came to the shop on 17th Nov., with specifications for an engine and boiler for a new steamer. I asked him where the Teaser was, and he told me she was all right, and that there was a little trouble in settling up with Turner, Beeton & Co.

This closed the case for the prosecution and the court proceeded to read over the evidence to the defendant.

No evidence was offered for the defence. The counsel of both sides, Mr. T. Davie for the prosecution, and Mr. A. N. Richards for the defence, argued the case at length, and quoted extensively from English law bearing on piracy.

The Court said it was a matter of doubt whether the harbor of Victoria came within the Admiralty law. The facts are that Turner, Beeton & Co. were mortgagees in possession of the steamer, and their claim never was disputed. They paid all disbursements and employed Capt. Moore and paid him his salary. They had engaged him to run the boat on a certain route between this city and New Westminster. Capt. Moore also occupied another capacity than that of Captain, as he was always consulted by Turner, Beeton & Co. There was sufficient evidence to go to a jury to show that Capt. Moore took the steamer off the route on which it was placed and sent it away somewhere else. It has not been shown where the vessel has gone. I can't doubt for a moment that Captain Moore knew about the vessel going away, as all the circumstances indicated that he was at least accessory to taking the vessel. It is said that he acted under a claim of right, but there has been no evidence to sustain that statement. If Captain Moore or his son, have claims and they may have, those claims are such as may be enforced in a court of law, and not by running away with the vessel. I do not know if the charge amounts to piracy, but there is a prima facie case to send to a jury. Accessories to piracy were equally guilty and punishable with principals. The safest course, he thought would be to continue his bail and send the case to a jury. Bail was continued at the same amount, and the case sent to the assizes for trial.

TODAY'S TELEGRAPHIC NEWS

Associated Press Despatches to The Times.

THE TIMES OFFICE,
Victoria, 4:20 p. m., Nov. 21.

PARNELL'S MANIFESTO.

He has no Confidence in the Liberals or Radicals—He Proclaims them as Vile Politicians.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Parnell has issued his manifesto to the electors of Great Britain and Ireland, saying that the Liberals are appealing to the electors for support under false pretences. The Liberals have flagrantly violated the solemn pledges made by them to Ireland, which should be denounced. The coercion practices resorted to under their regime were the most brutal of all the coercion measures. Juries were packed in an unprecedented number of cases, with shamelessness, and innocent men hung, or sent to a living death of penal servitude. Twelve hundred persons were imprisoned without trial; and ladies were convicted under an obsolete act, which was directed against them, and six were degraded; the press and public meetings were suppressed, as if Ireland were a Poland and administration in England were of Russian autocracy. The manifesto further says the representatives of the Liberals in Ireland have been men like Mr. Forster and Earl Spencer, left more hateful memories in Ireland than any statesmen for the past century. If the long delayed triumph had not expelled the Liberals Earl Spencer would still be at Dublin Castle, and coercion would be triumphant in Ireland. Landlords, instead of making reasonable abatements in rents, which depression in agriculture demanded, and which every landlord in England and Scotland conceded, would be evicting their tenants by the wholesale, with Earl Spencer encouraging them, and the police, soldiery and coercion magistrates would have filled the jails in assisting them. Under the name of free schools the Liberals are making insiduous attempts to crush religious education and establish a state of tyranny and intolerance to fetter the conscience. Therefore we feel bound to advance that no confidence can be placed in the Liberal or Radical party, and as far as possible to prevent the government of the Empire from falling into the hands of a party so perfidious, treacherous and incompetent, the Irish Nationalists should not vote for a Liberal or Radical, except in some few cases, in which some courageous fealty to the Irish in last Parliament has given guarantee that the candidate did not belong to the servile, cowardly and unprincipled herd, who would break every pledge and violate every principle in obedience to a call of the whip or the mandate of a caucus.

ANOTHER BATTLE TO-DAY.

The Battle-field Strewn with Dead Bodies and Dying Soldiers—The Ambulance Corps.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Dispatches from Slivinitza state that only a few shots were exchanged between the Servians and Bulgarians at the front yesterday. Prince Alexander intends to attack the Servian forces at Dragoman to-day if the weather permits. Both sides are constantly hurrying reinforcements to the front. The battlefield is still strewn with unattended dying and dead soldiers. The medical and ambulance corps of both armies is wholly inadequate to meet their present wants, and many wounded, who are unable to assist themselves, are left to perish where they fell.

GLADSTONE'S THIRD SPEECH.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 21.—Mr. Gladstone this afternoon delivered his third speech of the campaign series, at Dalkeith, fully 3,000 persons being present. He said he was confident that the Liberals would elect a majority of members of the House of Commons in the coming elections. The dependence of the Tories, he said, on the Irish voters was unsafe and discreditable to the country.

ITALIANS IN THE BURMESE ARMY.

RANGOON, Nov. 21.—The British expeditionary force has captured the Maginea town of Burmah, on the Irrawaddy river, three hundred miles above Pronza. Among the prisoners taken were three Italian officers, serving in the Burmese army. General Prendergast is now at Wiembo. He states fighting is expected at Sagaing.

ANOTHER OCEAN STEAMER WRECKED.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The British steamship Iberian from Boston, Nov. 10th, for Liverpool, is ashore in Dunmanus Bay and likely to prove a total wreck. Dunmanus Bay is an inlet on the southwest coast of Ireland, in the county of Cork. Her cargo was valued at $300,000. She carried a crew of fifty; was insured.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Consols closed at 100 9-16 for both accounts.

THE present Parliamentary contest in England is not without its humorous incidents. It is interesting to know that several teachers are in the field as candidates, amongst them MR. GEORGE COLLINS, a leading teacher under the London School Board. At a recent meeting held in Dulwich to further his candidature, a gentleman, evidently opposed to MR. COLLINS, asked "Who killed GENERAL GORDON?" Before MR. COLLINS could reply, another person in the audience showed his estimate of the question by asking, "Who killed Cock Robin?" This was followed by peals of laughter.

OTTAWA, it is said, is about to "steal" the Montreal Carnival. If, as is feared, the small-pox afflicted city will not be able to shake itself free of the dread epidemic before Carnivaltide, by all means let us wish success to the Capital in its endeavours to amuse winter visitors and to induce them to circulate their shekels. It is too late now to object to such entertainments as a reflection upon the climate. Canada is known as an arctic country by her southern neighbors, and she may as well philosophically pocket with the reputation the dollars which in this way it brings.

Sir John Macdonald

Leaves for London—An Important Mission—The Fisheries Question.

Reciprocity to be Considered—The British Mails and the C. P. R.

OTTAWA, Nov. 21.—Sir John A. Macdonald left last evening for London. His mission is to confer with the Imperial authorities, respecting a commission to arrange with the United States concerning the fisheries of Canada, and terms upon which their fisheries may be enjoyed by the United States fishermen. It is understood that the larger question of reciprocity is included in the subjects which the Premier will discuss. He will also confer with the authorities in respect to the transit of the British mails to eastern Asia, and other points, via the Canadian Pacific Railway. Several other questions of importance are also included in his mission.

NEW WESTMINSTER DISTRICT.

Large Accession to the Voters' List—A Convention Proposed.

GRANVILLE, Nov. 21.—During the last two days sixty-five new voters have registered here. It is reported that arrangements are in progress for calling together the electors of the New Westminster district, at an early date, in some central locality, for the purpose of selecting a convention, three good and true men to contest the district in the interest of good, honest and progressive government, and in opposition to the present incapables who usurp the position of administrators of the affairs of the province. It is felt that the greatest care should be exercised in selecting men of probity, integrity and ability, to further the interests, not only of this district, but those of the whole province. The holding of a convention of the electors is a step that must commend itself to every one, as each will be afforded an opportunity to express his views on all questions affecting the province.

A SENSATIONAL ELOPEMENT.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The Sun's London special says: News of the elopement of a beautiful heiress of 18 years, who was a ward in chancery under the guardianship of Hon. Gathorn Hardy, with the latter's steward, a married man, named Anderson, was first published in London this morning. Thirty peers telegraphed to ascertain if it was a relative. It proved to be a Miss Ridgeway. Anderson first caused her to sign an article as his domestic to protect them. The lady was never to leave the only man she ever loved.

AN AMUSING CASE.

The Seattle Chronicle says: During the trial of the cases against the British bark Hattie E. Tapley and her master, Captain Finleyson, Judge McGilvra had a Chinaman, by the name of Lum Chin, who was employed on board of the vessel, then lying in the harbor at Victoria, subpoenaed as a witness. The witness came under process of the court and testified. The cases were disposed of today and then the question arose what shall be done with Lum Chin? The discussion of this interrogatory afforded much amusement. The matter came up for final disposition this afternoon, U. S. District Attorney White asked for an order of the Chinaman's deportation to Victoria. After considering whether he should be deported to Hongkong whence the vessel sailed, to Victoria or to the deck of the bark whence he was taken, the court at last ordered his deportation to Victoria and instructed Marshal George to carry out the order. If the British authorities should refuse his admission unless $50 head tax is prepaid, the query is who will have to put that up.

EIGHTY MILES AN HOUR.

Larger engines, faster time and longer runs are the order in England as well as in this country. The Northeastern Railway Company is having twenty new engines built solely for express service, which, in several respects, will be unequalled in the world. These are some of the characteristics: Drivers—four wheels coupled—7 feet 6 inches in diameter; leading wheels, 4 feet 6 inches in diameter; wheel base, 16 feet 8 inches; cylinders, 18x24 inches, capacity of tender, 2800 gallons of water, and 5 tons of coal; weight of engine with steam up, 44 tons; weight of tender, [illegible] tons. These engines will be capable of running express from York to Edinburgh in one journey, thus doubling the length of run, and time being reduced. As to their speed, it is stated that on a level they can [illegible] make the extraordinary time of eighty miles per hour.

VICTORIA AS A WHOLESALE AND MANUFACTURING CENTRE.

Winnipeg wholesale dealers are discussing the probabilities of that city being able to control the trade of the vast area of country extending eastward to Lake Superior, and westerly as far as the interior of this province. While Winnipeg is thus stretching out her arms such centres as Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton are not lying on their oars. It is very evident that so soon as the through traffic on the Canadian Pacific is established a complete change in the Northwest's commercial relations with the east will take place, and in that change it will be found that Victoria's dealers will prove themselves equal to the changed condition in their relations with a territory that naturally belongs to this city. Victoria's position is such as to render her forever a point of competition in transportation, both by land and water. In this respect our advantage over Winnipeg becomes at once apparent; for that city being so completely at the mercy of the Canadian Pacific, and without the advantages of competing transportation routes, it follows as a natural consequence that her dealers are handicapped, as compared with those of Victoria. British and continental goods can be landed at Victoria by way of Cape Horn at figures slightly in advance of those charged for the same service at Montreal or Toronto, for during six months of the year, these cities have to depend on railway facilities. Goods from China, Japan and other countries in the Orient, can certainly be landed here much cheaper than in the east. At all seasons of the year we have communication with every part of the globe by water. With the East we have direct connection and competition by several transcontinental lines of railway, thereby securing us every advantage that keen rivalry for trade can guarantee. We are aware that in many instances a lower rate of freight for through shipments from the Atlantic to the Pacific seaboards has been granted Victoria merchants and dealers, than to those of Winnipeg. Hitherto the trade of the interior has been difficult to reach; the transportation facilities were such as to render intertraffic with the upper country almost prohibitory. A change for the better has already taken place, and a still greater revolution is anticipated. The incoming summer will, beyond question, witness an increased interest in our mines, which recent explorations and discoveries have demonstrated to be very rich. To develop these, people and capital will be attracted thither from all parts. The interior being rendered easy of access, greater attention will be devoted to agriculture and stock raising. The handsome profits realized this season by those engaged in the fishery industry will have the effect of restoring confidence in that important branch of our industries. With the general prosperity prevailing the lumber industry will also sympathize. The effect of the completion of the C. P. R. on the interior, for the time being, may be depressing, but it will only be temporary, and soon will be replaced by one of complete confidence in the future, as the increased interest in mining matters will give a fresh and healthy stimulus to all lines of commerce. Victoria merchants having already control of all the channels of trade; the banks here having an abundance of capital for legitimate business enterprises, and the city being the social, political and educational centre of the immense territory within the bounds of British Columbia, she will likewise maintain her supremacy as the commercial, shipping and manufacturing metropolis. But in order to render her position, already safe, doubly secure, it behooves our business men to be ever on the alert for new channels and markets for our merchandise. God and nature has done much for us; what then shall we do for ourselves?

Mr. Gladstone is terribly chagrined at the severe criticisms which the Liberal press of Edinburgh and Glasgow contained of his speech of Wednesday.

COMMERCIAL UNION.

A feeling of unrest in regard to the political relations existing between the several provinces of the Dominion prevails to a considerable extent amongst the leaders of public opinion in the east. The advocates for a Commercial Union with the United States are increasing in strength — receiving accessions to their ranks from such as are polite to the National Policy. A writer in discussing the question says: The people of every part of this Dominion are more identified with their own continent than with any other portion of the globe. They cannot, if they would, shake themselves clear of their manifest destiny. Whatever the past may have been, for the future no section of Europe can be to the people of Canada what the sixty millions—soon to be hundreds of millions — of enlightened, free and progressive English-speaking people of the other half of North America must be. Politicians may conjure by appeals to sentiment today; but the verdict of to-morrow will shatter all mock ideals and give place to invincible realities. Is this treason? Then JOHN BRIGHT is a traitor. Towards the close of 1861 that eminent public man, speaking of the proposition that it would be better that the continent of North America be divided up into a number of separate States, as is the continent of Europe, used these words:

"I should say that if a man had a great heart within him he would rather look forward to the day when, from that point of land which is habitable nearest to the Pole to the shores of the great Gulf, the whole of that vast continent might become one confederation of States—without a great army and without a great navy—not mixing itself up with the entanglements of European politics—without a custom house inside through the whole length and breadth of its territory, and with freedom everywhere, equality everywhere, law everywhere, peace everywhere; such a confederation would afford at least some hope that man is not forsaken of Heaven, and that the future of our race may be better than the past."

Since uttering these memorable and prophetic words, JOHN BRIGHT has been twice a member of a British Cabinet—a sworn adviser of the Crown. If MR. BRIGHT can speak freely of the destiny of this country on a British platform, I, a citizen of this country, more affected by its fortunes than MR. BRIGHT can be, claim at least equal freedom to speak of its destiny. JOHN BRIGHT, when he used the words just quoted, was loyal to British interests. So am I when I solemnly declare that British interests are indissolubly bound up in the closest union and friendship between the English-speaking people of this the great English-speaking continent of the world. With a full knowledge and appreciation of all that the proposition means and involves, I declare for Commercial Union with the United States as a substitute for the National Policy.

ENGLAND'S FIRST ORATOR.

MR. JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN, the eloquent leader of the Radical party in England, remarks the Canada Presbyterian, is fifty years of age. He has been in Parliament only nine years. His reputation as a orator—and it is as an orator alone that we speak of him—has for the most part been made in the last four or five years. As Mayor of Birmingham, member of the School Board and of the Town Council, and as a prominent manufacturer and business man, no doubt, the hon. gentleman won a good local reputation long ago; but England has known him as a first-class parliamentary orator less than ten years and the world for only four or five years. Were GLADSTONE'S vocal chords in good condition, were JOHN BRIGHT twenty years younger, CHAMBERLAIN might be in the second rank of orators, but as matters stand he is easily first. With very large audiences he is very effective. Those who ought to know say he has acquired much of his splendid orotarical power within the last few years—certainly since he was forty or forty-five years of age. We have in our mind's eye two Canadian statesmen—why should we say politicians any more than they do in England?—two Canadian statesmen, one just CHAMBERLAIN'S age, and the other a few years older, who are said by those who know to have made wonderful improvement as speakers within the last few years. Both are very earnest, persevering students. CHAMBERLAIN is said to have devoted a vast amount of time and labor in the last few years to mastering the art of the orator. Now, why should not a preacher grow in power at fifty as well as a statesman? MR. CHAMBERLAIN is, or was, a manufacturer of screws. Surely a man who had a university education and has been engaged at literary work all his life should have as much growth in him at fifty as a screw manufacturer. There should be no "dead line of fifty" in the ministerial profession. It is a scandal to the ministry that such a phrase was ever coined. Whether love of veal on the part of the people, or laziness on the part of the clergy, gave rise to the phrase, we cannot say. It is a scandal all the same. The best way to stamp out the scandal—the only way—is to speak better, preach better, study better, write better, at fifty than ever before. Nobody draws a dead line on CHAMBERLAIN at fifty. He would be a lively subject to draw a line on.

HON. MR. WHITE announced in Winnipeg that he returns to Ottawa with the intention of having fewer land regulations in the Northwest, and of making it easier for settlers to homestead in the country and more difficult for speculators to get hold of the land.

SUNDAY CLOSING IN ENGLAND

A curious phase of the Sunday closing question in England is presented in a recent letter in the London Times. The correspondent writes that, in company with two friends, he attended afternoon service in the newly restored nave of St. Alban's, "proposing afterwards to see the rest of one of the most interesting of English cathedrals." Service over, however, the party were informed that it was impossible for them to carry out their plan, and that it was forbidden even to walk round the nave after service except by special permission from the Archdeacon. This permission was obtained by the correspondent, but upon returning to the Abbey, he found that his companions had meanwhile been turned out of the building "with but scant courtesy," that the doors were locked, and the vergers gone. Having failed in their endeavor to inspect the interior, the visitors attempted to see the exterior, "in itself of extreme interest," but they were promptly ordered out of the churchyard by a surly official, who told them that if they did not clear out at once they would have to climb over the spikes of an eight feet railing. Similar rules are enforced at the interesting church of St. Michael, in the same town, with its Bacon monument and shrine of DUKE HUMPHREY. The Times' correspondent is indignant at such regulations, and we doubt not many rigid Sabbatharians will share his sentiments. Yet the truth is, that the clergy of St. Albans have only been consistent in carrying out to its logical conclusion the theory upon which is based the whole opposition to the Sunday opening of libraries, museums, art galleries, and all such places. It is just as bad to visit St. Albans of a Sunday "to admire at leisure the grand old Abbey" as it is to go to a picture gallery and enjoy the work of a great painter.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

A ROYAL decree has been promulgated in Spain ordering the corporations of all towns whose population exceeds 100,000, on the request of the local educational committee, to appoint a medical inspector of schools. The salary is to be fixed by the corporation.

THE Scott Act has had a narrow escape in Fredericton, N. B. A vote was taken on the proposition that it should be repealed when the measure was sustained by the slim majority of 13. When the Act was adopted by the municipality in 1879 it was carried by a majority of 201; on the revote three years ago the majority in its favor was 41.

NEVER before in the history of Oregon has game been so plentiful as this season. The markets are stocked with all kinds, including fish, flesh and fowl. The hills abound with deer and elk, the marsh and bogs with the feathered fowl and the streams with the finny tribe. Truly, the game law of Oregon has wrought a great change.

SHERIFF GLASS, of London, Ont., has received a telegram from the Under Secretary of State, to the effect that the Privy Council has considered the case of BENJAMIN SIMMONS, who is in gaol here under a sentence of death, and decided that the law must take its course. He will, therefore, be hanged on the 27th of this month.

THE death sentence passed upon LOUIS MONTRAIN for connection with the Northwest rebellion has been commuted to imprisonment for life, MR. MCLEAN and his daughter having interested themselves in his behalf. The sentence of death passed upon an Indian named The Runner has also been commuted to imprisonment for life. He had nothing to do with the rebellion; his crime was shooting another Indian.

The Mail last week published from its special correspondent in Montreal the facts in connection with alleged startling frauds on the Dominion revenue, said to have been carried on for several years past by one of the wealthiest and most extensive corporations in the city of Montreal—the British American Bank Note Co. A searching investigation is now being made by the customs authorities in that city. The amount of the government claim is placed at about $150,000.

"Baxter's Barley-Bree"
THIS well-known and justly celebrated Brand of Old Scotch Whisky is never sent out from the Proprietor's Bonded Warehouse till it has attained an age of at least Seven Years. It is generally, however, considerably older than this before it actually reaches the consumer.
The following Certificate of Purity, under the Act of Parliament of 1875, is a recent Report upon it:—
LABORATORY OF PUBLIC ANALYST, Dundee, [illegible] July, 18[illegible].
"I have examined a sample of [illegible] Baxter's Barley-Bree Scotch Whisky, and I hereby certify that it possesses all the properties of a Fine Class Scotch Whisky. It has a moderate amount of aroma, and is free from Fusel Oil. I consider the Whisky of excellent quality. It is evidently thoroughly matured.
Signed, [illegible] MACDOUGALD,
Fellow of the Institute of Chemistry, Public Analyst for the County of Perth, and the Burghs of Dundee, Forfar, Montrose, and Arbroath.
The Public should insist upon getting this Whisky, and should take no other. They will find it the best and safest source.

Seeing So Many Artificial Flies, Fish Learn to Distrust the Real Insect.

[Chicago Times.]

Several years ago, the great naturalist, Frank Buckland, whose death produced profound sorrow to the lovers of birds and animals in every part of the world, called attention to the fact that salmon, trout, and other game fish could not be caught by means of artificial flies in certain lakes and streams in England. There was no trouble in catching them with this sort of bait in the lakes and streams in Scotland and Wales, and in those portions of England where scientific fishing tackle had not long been used. The fish in the streams that had long been visited by town anglers, however, were not to be tempted by artificial bait of any sort. During the last two or three fishing seasons it is reported that these fish, which are the joy of the angler, will not touch the May fly, which is the article of food of which they were formerly the most fond, and which has generally been employed for bait by fishermen since artificial flies, grubs, and minnows have been rejected. They have apparently come to distrust everything but vegetables and animalcula.

A scientific angler in a communication to an English sporting paper states that he spent an entire day trying to induce some fine trout to accept the tempting food he offered them. He displayed before their eyes and within reach of their mouths some twenty varieties of artificial flies, grubs, and fish, but they were all looked upon with disdain. He then baited his hooks with May flies, but the cautious fish were not to be tempted by these. Presently some May flies approached his boat and, as is usually the case, some of them touched the water and were held fast. Some of the trout and other game fish rose to the surface, surveyed the creatures, and then slowly moved away. They were evidently hungry, for they searched the sand and mud on the bottom of the lake in quest of food. If they found small insects they would eat them.

The conclusion of this angler was that these fish have been educated up to a point where they have become useless to the fisherman. Acquired knowledge has made them over-cautious. They are no longer credulous, like the trout and salmon in the streams which few fishermen have visited. They know quite too much to be imposed upon. They have seen some of their former friends and companions take tempting-looking insects and small fishes into their mouths, after which they were pulled about in the water against their will, and finally drawn into a boat or thrown upon dry land. They are not willing to run the chance of being treated in this ugly fashion. In fact, in his opinion a race of fish has been evolved by "natural selection" that decline to touch artificial bait or May flies. As their numbers are not lessened by anglers, they have multiplied. The ignorant and entirely uneducated sorts of fish have diminished in number. Only the kinds of fish survive that decline artificial bait and May flies. It is another example of "the survival of the fittest."

And now comes a distinguished disciple of Darwin and Spencer, who declares that the former inhabitants of Alaska were very highly civilized, and made use of artificial bait for catching salmon. He draws his conclusion from the circumstance that the salmon of Alaska will not touch artificial bait or flies. They learned from their remote ancestors to avoid them under penalty of being caught. The consequence was that the salmon multiplied. The effect was bad, however, on the inhabitants. Not being able to procure brain food, they declined in intellect and diminished in numbers. At present the salmon of Alaska are among the wisest of their race, while the men stand very low in the scale of intelligence.

The Triple Somersault.

[New York Cor. Inter Ocean.]

A former circus performer is a patient at the Home for Incurables. His ailment is spinal, and it has brought on consumption. The original cause was a hurt received while trying to turn a triple somersault. Doubtless you have heard a ringmaster grandiloquently announce, at the close of the spring-board leaping in a circus performance, while the orchestra was hushed, and the boys in the front benches breathed hard, that Signor So-and-so would accomplish the unrivaled feat of turning three complete somersaults in the air twixt spring-board and mattress. Then the gymnast did something that seemed to realize the promise. But it was an illusion. His body really made only two revolutions. Experts differ in opinion as to whether the genuine feat has ever been accomplished. There are recorded deaths resulting from attempts. The difficulty lies in an inability to alight on the feet after so many turns.

"I thought I could do it," said Henry N. Northup, the man dying in the hospital, "as I was a powerful athlete and very clever on my legs. I rigged up a springboard in the yard of my residence, and plucked up the courage to practice. Twice I turned triple somersaults fairly and squarely, but the third time I came down heavily on the back of my neck. I was laid up for a month, and on attempting to resume work found that there was something wrong with my spine. I have steadily grown worse, and there's not more than six months left of me."

Funny Stage Incident.

[The Lute.]

A ludicrous incident lately took place during a performance of "Der Freischutz" at the Munich Court theatre. Casper has to prove the infallibility of the magic bullets to Max by shooting an eagle off-hand. Something, however, was wrong with the gun on the night in question; for although Caspar "pulled" twice, his piece did not go off. Herr Licht, who was playing the part, was quite equal to the emergency, and exclaimed extempore, "See! I have brought him down all the same," as the property bird fell flump on the stage. Vogl, however, the Max of the occasion, rejoined with the proper words of his part: "Caspar, what did you load with? Have you any more bullets of that sort?" whereupon a shout of Homeric laughter burst from the audience, and continued, peal after peal, for such an unconscionable time that the official in charge of the stage at last ordered the curtain to be lowered upon a hurly-burly of merriment without precedent in the precincts of the Hoftheatre.

Soap Bubbles.

[Exchange.]

Into a quart bottle of rain water put four ounces of pure palm oil soap sliced into thin shavings. Shake the mixture well until the water will dissolve no more soap. Let it stand until it settles perfectly clear. Then add to two volumes of this soap-solution one volume of pure concentrated glycerine.

This preparation will make stout bubbles whose changes in color and shifting of hues will repay for the trouble.

The Dying Naturalist.

[Chicago Tribune.]

Frank Buckland's biographer records that when the great naturalist lay dying, "God is so good," he said, "so very good to the little fishes, I do not believe He would let their inspector suffer shipwreck at last. I am going on a long journey, where I think I shall see a great many curious animals. This journey I must go alone."

THE CHIROPODIST

SAYS THAT FASHION'S CHANGES HAVE NEARLY RUINED HIM.

The Broad-Bottomed Shoe at the Bottom of the Mischief—Secrets of the Corn-Doctor's Trade—About Big Feet.

[Louisville Courier-Journal.]

"Come in," said a voice as a reporter, after passing up a narrow flight of stairs, knocked at a small door on which was pasted a large card bearing the sign:

"Dr. ——, Practical Chiropodist, Cures Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Toenails and All Other Ailments of the Feet. Ladies Treated at Their Residences."

The intruder pushed open the door and entered. The doctor was reposing languidly in an easy chair by the window, inhaling the cool afternoon breeze, while he slowly swept a large palm-leaf fan in front of his face. A table near by was covered with little phials, bearing different kinds of labels, and several queer looking little iron instruments were lying by their side. A short distance from the table was a chair something like that used by dentists, but with an unusually broad foot rest, covered with a piece of bright Brussels carpeting.

"This is just the time when I can talk to you; business is so dull," said the chiropodist, as he gave a more than usually vigorous sweep of the fan and thoughtfully crossed one leg over the other, while he gazed for a few moments in a deep reflection at the toe of his boot. "Yes, business is dull with everybody, and with our profession especially."

"Why with you in particular, doctor?"

"How can you ask me? Look at that shoe you have on. The tip is broad and gives ample room for the toes. It does not cramp them like a vise. The change in fashion has almost ruined the chiropodist's profession—I call it such because its devotees must be a man of tact and skill—as it has taken away the larger part of our business."

The doctor leaned further back in his chair with a deep sigh of disgust, and looked mournfully across the street at a young man walking rapidly and firmly on a pair of broad-bottomed shoes. For a few moments he did not deign to speak, and the reporter refrained from disturbing his retrospective silence.

"Yes," he resumed, "we reaped a rich harvest during the four or five preceding years. Everybody had corns and bunions on the feet. I won't except the ladies, who, to tell the truth, suffered more than the other sex. Our best business comes from them, as we are usually called to their residences, and of course, under those circumstances, charge more. There was one lady who, during the spike-toe mania, had a standing call for my services three times a week at $2.50 a visit. I suppose I ought not to growl, as I made money then, and should endure the present dull times contentedly.

"I am not joking in what I tell you," continued the gentleman, more briskly, "but it is all the solid truth. There are only a few persons in our profession in this city, and we did a fine business until narrow shoes went out of fashion. Most troubles of the feet date from that source. As fashions do not change simultaneously all over the country, but beginning in the east spread slowly west, I think I will have to adopt the policy of keeping on the edge. When the sharp toes go west I go with them. Thus I keep in the center of trade, and manage to overcome the expense that constant removing entails upon me. I have had my establishment in a number of cities."

"You have practiced your business in several cities, doctor, and are an expert on the subject of feet. The ladies of this city claim to have the smallest pedal extremities in the country. Can you decide the long vexed question?"

The physician laughed in a rather uneasy manner and shrugged his shoulders while he hesitated a few moments before he spoke.

"Of course you are not going to print my name in all this? If you do, I can not say a word more. Well, since you promise, I can tell you that chiropodists consider Louisville the best business town in the country. The ladies wear the tightest shoes, and more of them are afflicted with corns than in any other city in the Union. Louisville women are vain of their feet, and their shoes are invariably a size or two too small. The ladies of Baltimore have the smallest extremities and Louisville comes next. New Orleans ranks third. For big feet, go to Chicago, Philadelphia and Boston. Chicago can, however, beat the other two."

What the English Think of Us.

[London Cor. New York Times.]

The proposition that "English do not like Americans" is true, and it is not true. Some Englishmen like some Americans, and treat them civilly in England, but many Englishmen will accept home hospitalities and club favors in New York which they do not intend to return in London. The secret of it is simply this: the higher class in England whose society is worth enjoying regard us as a purely commercial people, with the instincts of commerce, and no matter how much we may affect English sports, part our hair in the middle, intone and mince our words, as our would-be New York swells now do, we are for the most part regarded by the nobility and gentry of England as traders, with peculiar manners and want of breeding. Of our general intelligence and smartness they have no doubt, but the best circles in England demand other qualities than these as a passport for crossing their thresholds.

A Clever Idea.

[Foreign Letter.]

A new London hotel has room closets with double doors, one opening into the sleeping compartments and the other into the hall, through which guests pass their boots to have them blacked instead of setting them out at the door, where they look bad and are in danger of being stolen. The idea is clever enough to have been suggested by an American.

Gain Both Ways.

[Hotel Mail.]

"We encourage the interchange of visits with the patrons of other resorts," said the proprietor of a leading summer hotel; "when our people are away for the day they pay for the dinners they don't have, and when their friends return the call they pay for the dinners they do have, so we gain both ways."

Strange Burial Customs.

The beautiful figures of terra cotta which reach us from Asia and Greece are connected with Greek burials in a very remarkable way. They are not placed in the graves in an orderly fashion. At Tanagra and Myrina they are seldom found entire, but broken in a purposeful manner. In early times men slew at the graves of departed chiefs their female kin or captive women to accompany them to the next world.

It seems, then, likely that these terra cotta women of the graves are the later representatives of these real women, just as terra cotta loaves of bread and fruits take the place of real food, and that they were thrown into the tomb to people the solitude of the grave and to furnish the dead man with pleasant companionship in the world of shades. This theory will account for the fact that there are scarcely any representations of bearded men among terra cotta images—they are nearly all of women and of boys, and for the custom of breaking the images, the breaking taking the place of the earlier slaying.

KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great

Regenerative Medicine

Is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an

Absolute Cure

For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

While the TIMES is always prepared to give publicity to the views of correspondents on any question of interest to the public, provided facts are given, couched in unobjectionable language, we wish it to be understood that we do not hold ourselves responsible for the views expressed by the writers thereof.

Nor can we give room to duplicates of letters that have appeared in our contemporaries either in this city or elsewhere in the province. Correspondents, therefore, will save time and trouble in preparing such for THE TIMES, as they will be rejected.

Our space is valuable, and brevity, as far as possible, should be observed in writing on any topic, and on ONE SIDE of the sheet only.

—Mr. George H. Maynard announces that he has received the double-sole Walkemphast, and the Burt double-sole boots, which are specially adapted for this season of the year. Those wanting a comfortable cover for their "pedals" should give Mr. Maynard a call.

The Canadian road, by this move, controls an independent outlet to Boston, Portland and New York, and an entrance to the great manufacturing centres in the New England States. When the new bridge over the St. Lawrence is completed, an immense traffic is likely to pass over this system.

The Olympian brought freight for: M R & Tye, Jacob Sehl, Clark & Nicholson, T Carrington, G F Maynard, Albion Iron Works, Standard Oil Company, W Tinson, Welch Rithet & Co, W McColl, J Cunningham, A Burnes, E J Battencomb, A Ofner, C McDonough, G Hutcheson, Thos Earle, J Brown, D S Curtis & Co, McNaughton Bros, D McPhadden, Mrs Shakespeare, Neufelder & Ross, E McDonough, H Chaffee, Mrs Chance.

—Sheep are reported to be dying on certain ranges in Eastern Oregon, from the effects of eating a poisonous weed. The sheep feed on the weed and probably on the seeds. Presently their ears drop, they froth at the mouth, and their brain is affected. After standing for some time in a dazed condition, they start off in any direction they happen to be headed, and keep going, until they walk over a cliff, or into a gully, or they fall dead.

FALSE CERTIFICATES.

Lee Yin and Ah You are two innocent and guileless Mongols who endeavored to get into the country to-day on false certificates. The papers they presented to the customs authorities had been tampered with, by obliterating the ages written thereon by the use of some sort of acid. Evidently the certificates had been given to some other Chinamen, whose ages did not correspond with either of the prisoners and they thought the safest way would be to rub the figures out altogether. They were brought before the police magistrate this afternoon and remanded until Monday.

THE [illegible]

The remains of Louis Riel were interred at Regina in a vault, and a strong guard [illegible] over it. There was no truth in the rumor that it was terribly disfigured.

A meeting was held in Montreal on the 19th, at which resolutions were passed denouncing the government, and demanding for the resignation of the three French-Canadian members of the Cabinet.

Meetings have been held in other parts of the country, upholding the conduct of the government. At Sherbrooke, P. Q., two anti-government men were seriously injured, the head of one being split open.

VICTORIA THEATRE.

Only a small audience at the Victoria last night, when "A Prisoner for Life" was presented for the first time. Indeed the audiences that have greeted the Bert Dramatic Co, would be no safe criterion of its merits or excellence of the combination, for each member of the company is a careful and faithful performer. But melodrama is not so popular in Victoria as comedy or opera, and no matter how clever the company, the Victoria cannot be filled for three or four nights consecutively by a play that is a continual tug to the heart-strings and endows even the gods near the roof with tender feelings and fills their eyes with tears. "A Prisoner for Life" is a play of the time of Louis XIV., and is full of many thrilling incidents. Mrs. Frederick Bert performed her parts in an exceptionally able way, as did also Miss Morris. Mr. Wessel's portrayals in the two characters he took, and Mr. Barringer's acting, were strong parts, and admirably sustained. The same play will be repeated to-night. At the matinee this afternoon "The Banker's Daughter, was repeated, and drew a fair house.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE DRIARD.

The office of the Driard has been changed to the left of the entrance hall, fronting on View street. The rooms on the ground floor, formerly used as reception ones, have been thrown into an office, sitting and writing room, with a smoking and card room at the rear. The change is a decided improvement, as it supplies a long felt want. Hereafter guests can be met in these rooms in either a social or business way. Other improvements are in progress; all of which will aid the Driard in maintaining the enviable reputation it enjoys amongst Pacific coast hostelleries.

CHINESE MINERS.

At the meeting of the Anti-Chinese Union last night the question of granting miner's certificates to Chinamen was discussed, and the following resolution was adopted: "Resolved, That we hail with pleasure the intention of Mr. Orr, the member for New Westminster district, to introduce at the next session of the provincial legislature a measure to withold from any and every Chinaman a miner's certificate."

FASHIONABLE ARRIVAL.

We beg to call the attention of our friends and customers to the new millinery just received per Northern Pacific Rail which comprises the very latest styles in hats, bonnets, flowers, ornaments, &c. Also two special lines in Macksilks, seal cloaking and dress plushes in all colors, being the best value ever offered in the city. BROWN & WHITE,
* Government street.

VALUABLE COLLECTION.

A Montreal paper says that Mr. Francois Mercier, the hardy Canadian pioneer of Alaska, at present in Montreal, has with him a most valuable collection of almost everything to be found in the country. A friend of his, a Mr. Jacobson, sold a collection of similar objects, but not anyway as complete as this one, to the German Government for $17,000.

A FAMILIAR FACE FROM HOME.

Mr. Neil McLennan, for many years one of Yale's most popular citizens, has purchased "The Balmoral" 2931, at the terminus of the Geary Street Cable road, near Masonic Avenue, San Francisco, where he will be pleased to see all his British Columbia friends who may be sojourning in the Bay City. Neil is a "hale fellow well met everywhere."

THE WATER SUPPLY.

A special meeting of the City Council was held to-day at noon, when, it is understood, the application of outside parties for a continuation of their supply of water from the city mains was discussed. The conclusion arrived at was to adhere to the course already set forth by resolution, and to discontinue supplying water to all parties outside of the city limits.

WITHDREW HIS BOND.

E. Leclair, out on bail to appear at the assizes on a charge of cruelly beating a Chinaman on the Craigflower road, returned from San Francisco to-day on the Mexico. His bondsmen were Messrs. Jos. Fell and Roland Green. The former surrendered the defendant, who is now in gaol.

THEY ARE COMING.

Mr. Jos. R. Grismer, Miss Phoebe Davies and the Baldwin Theatre Company, will appear at the "Victoria" theatre for three nights only, beginning Monday, Nov. 30, appearing in the "Wages of Sin," "Called Back" and the "Veteran."

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. T. L. Galbraith, M. P. P. for Kootenay, was at Sand Point on the 19th inst.

Mr. F. S. Barnard returned from Portland to-day.

F M Schenck and wife, G L Dixon, Jas Gray, A Davison, V A Le Prince and S Gray arrived this morning on the Mexico.

Mr. Charlton, M. P. for Norfolk, Ont., and Mrs. Charlton are at Los Angeles, Cal. It is expected that Mr. Charlton will extend his trip to Victoria ere he returns to the east.

Mr. Samuel Gray, of Chemainus, who visited the Hammam baths, San Francisco, for his health, returned this morning by the Mexico, almost fully restored to his former self. He was absent for three weeks, and speaks in high praise of the baths.

POLICE COURT.

(Before R. Johnson, S. M.)

SATURDAY, Nov. 21.

James Jenkins, and Kate, a Songish Indian, charged with being drunk. Each fined $5 or one week.

Thomas Tweed, in unlawful possession of two pairs of blankets, one looking-glass and a pair of sleeve buttons, knowing the articles to have been stolen. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and the case was remanded until Monday for evidence.

Tom, a Fort Rupert Indian, stealing a coat valued at $3 from a Bella Bella Indian. The evidence showed that a row had occurred among a number of Indians and the prosecutor had pulled off his coat to take a hand in it. Since then he has not found it. The Court thought the evidence insufficient, and discharged the prisoner.

Nathan Pointer, in possession of stolen property, on remand from yesterday. Adjourned until Tuesday.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla works directly and promptly, to purify and enrich the blood, improve the appetite, strengthen the nerves and brace up the system. It is in the truest sense an alterative medicine. Every invalid should give it a trial. *

A NEW KING OF THE THRONE.

"Malaria," as a "popular ailment," has given place to a new potentate.

If you have Rheumatism now, the medical wiseacres exclaim—"Uric Acid."

If you have frequent headaches, they sagely remark—"Uric Acid!"

If you have softening of the brain, they insist that it is—"Uric Acid!"

If Sciatica or Neuralgia, make life miserable, it is—"Uric Acid!"

If your skin breaks out in boils and pimples, it is—"Uric Acid!"

If you have Abscesses and Piles, "Uric Acid" has set your blood on fire.

Mr. Timple Sinclair, a gentleman who has for some time been a successful contractor on this end of the C. P. R., left to-day on a visit to his native heath in auld Scotia. THE TIMES wishes him a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

If you have dull, languid feelings, back-ache, kidney or bladder troubles, gout, gravel, poor blood; are ill at ease, threatened with paralysis or apoplexy, vertigo; are bilious, dropsical, constipated or dyspeptic—"Uric Acid" is the key to the situation, the cause of all your difficulties! We do not know as Madam Malaria will take kindly to this Masculine Usurper, but he has evidently come to stay.

"Uric Acid,"—this monster, is the product of the decomposition—death—constantly taking place within us, and unless he is every day routed from the system through the kidneys, by means of some great blood specific like Warner's safe cure, which Senator B. K. Bruce says snatched him from its grasp, there is not the least doubt but that it will utterly ruin the strongest human constitution! It is not a young fellow by any means. It has a long and well-known line of ancestors. It is undoubtedly the father of a very great family of diseases, and though it may be the fashion to ascribe progeny to it that are not directly its own, there can be little doubt that if it once gets thoroughly seated in the human system, it really does introduce into it most of the ailments now, per force of fashion, attributed to its baleful influence.

MARINE.

The ship Commodore, Capt. Jordan, was towed up to Departure Bay last evening by the Alexander to load coal for San Francisco.

The steamship Walla Walla, from San Francisco to Seattle, passed Race Rocks at 10 o'clock last night.

A lumber ladened bark, from the Sound for San Francisco, passed Race Rocks at 2 a.m. to-day.

The Mexico rounded Race Rocks at 4:40 this a. m. and fired a gun at 5:20. She reports no vessels outside, and a strong northerly wind prevailing.

The Mexico, when rounding Race Rocks nearly ran over the wreck of the scow Sea Lion, lately reported ashore on this side of RaceRocks. The wreck was drifting to sea.

USING CHLOROFORM.

A man named T. W. Clayton, who came from Yale in October, and has since been boarding at the Vancouver House, was arrested last night while in the act of stealing from several of his fellow boarders. An overcoat was taken from one, $7 in cash from another, and some small change from a third. Before being taken in charge by Officer Lindsay, he was seen to hide something under an adjoining building, which proved to be a bottle of chloroform. The man in whose bedroom he was caught, had undoubtedly been drugged, as it was fully ten minutes before he could be aroused from sleep. Clayton will figure in the police court on Monday.

HE IS AN ENGLISHMAN.

Referring to the case of Mr. Moore, the Englishman who recently arrived at this port from Hongkong, the Winnipeg Manitoban says: Mr. Moore is an Englishman. The law of England and of every civilized country, recognizes the oneness of husband and wife. And, again, if the father is a subject of Britain, can the children be classed among the proscribed race? The problem is one for the Ottawa authorities to solve, and an early reply is expected.

—Since the completion of the Canadian Pacific, says the Hamilton, Ont., Spectator, "it is possible for people here to get British Columbia papers before they (the papers) fall to pieces by reason of age." We are aware that while Toronto, Hamilton and London mail matter reaches Victoria P. O. generally on the sixth day after publication it not unfrequently happens that B. C. mail matter does not reach the same points in the east in much less than nine to ten days.

D. Lorne MacDougall, member of the Stock Exchange, formerly president of the North British Mercantile Insurance Company, died suddenly of paralysis yesterday.

Preparations for the hanging of John Easterbee at Welland, Ont., are in progress. Workmen are engaged erecting a scaffold, the 30th is set for the execution. An effort is being made to have the sentence commuted.

J. C. Ravennes, the 16-year-old English boy, murderer, of Berlin, Ont., was committed for trial for killing a young German lad in the barn of a Waterloo farmer recently.

Herman Rogers, of Arcadia, N. S., has received letters from England that he is heir to an estate valued at millions of dollars through a recent decision of the chancery court.

A dispatch from Picton, Ont., on the 15th inst., says: Yesterday John Boyliss, town councillor, died suddenly of heart disease. William Ross, an neighbor, who had assisted in moving Boyliss to bed, was observed suddenly to sink to the floor. Ross expired also in a few moments. The sad event was alluded to in all the churches last Sunday.
